

About Our Company

TTC Beaches, LLC, formally known as TT&G, Inc., was established in 1978 as an excavating and gravel company. In 1985, due to increasing demands, TT&G, Inc. became involved with inland lake restoration and improvements. We began dredging shorelines and constructing sand beaches by placing sand either on the ice or lakeward using a hydraulic excavator.

TT&G realized changes had to be made to gain access to the lakeside without heavy equipment crossing the homeowners' beautifully landscaped property. This required an innovative change in our operations, equipment and methods.

Upon extensive research and testing, our solution was met with the invention of the Sand-Pro, a portable sand slurry plant which was patented in 1989. Joseph C. Trierweiler, President of TT&G, Inc., was granted both an apparatus and method patent for beach reclamation.

Unfortunately in 2004, Joe Trierweiler passed. His 3 son's Curt, Craig and Chris have been involved in the installation and process of the beaches have been working together to carry on with the dream that Joe worked so hard on for so long. They have been raised to understand this process and are passionate about the work they do and the opportunity that their dad has given to each of them.
